

PRESS RELEASE
Ceremony and Reflection –
Afternoon Piano Recital at Oriel Môn with Tristian Evans
29.10.17

Oriel Môn will be hosting a very special piano recital performed by pianist and music researcher Tristian Evans on the 29th of October at 3.00pm.

The afternoon's recital will offer performances of piano music by Erik Satie, Maurice Ravel and Graham Fitkin, loosely based on the themes of ceremony and reflection. The music will be performed in conjunction with visual footages and photographs, specially compiled for this performance, which will offer an additional layer of meaning to the piano works, and a close interaction between music and image.

Tristian Evans was awarded a Fellowship of the Royal Schools of Music, following his recital at St Paul's School, London in 2016. Born and raised near Caernarfon, he graduated from Bangor University with a degree in Music before embarking on an MA course and later a Doctorate there. Currently he is active as a piano tutor in the Caernarfon area as well as writing about recorded performances of Ravel's piano works.

Nicola Gibson, Visitor Experience Manager stated "Tristian is currently performing Ravel's piano music on a tour of Art Galleries in Wales and we at Oriel Môn are delighted to be included on that list of Galleries. The visual arts is something we have always presented at Oriel Môn but this is the first time a collaboration between music and imagery has occurred here, this will be a rare treat and an opportunity not to be missed for all music lovers out there"

This performance has been made possible by funding from the Arts Council of Wales 'Night Out Scheme'. Tickets are available to purchase at the Shop at Oriel Môn: - Adult - £10 / Children - £6/ Family - £25. To purchase tickets and for further information please contact Oriel Môn on: - 01248 724444.
